Highland Springs Defents Montrose. Highland Springs Defeats Montrose.

The Montrose team was small defeated by the strong Highland Pariguean by a score of 14 to 7 yesterday. The fielding of H. Redferd for Montrose was one of the features of the game, he accepting six difficult chances in left field without a hitch. The hatting of Highland Springs was well worth seeing. They also took care of four fast double plays in the course of the game. Montrose also pulled off two fast double plays.

Highland Springs has open dates on June 29 and 27, and would like to hear from strong amateur teams.

Richmond lost the opening game yesterday with Roanoke, 8 to 4, largely through the ineffectiveness of Richmond's brace of pitchers and partiy because Jesse Tannehill, despite his wearying years, produced a left-handed by hand of pitching that the locals could not dishevel with any effective degree of consistency. Grays Meet Ashland To-Day

The followers of amateur baseball will be given a chance to see their favorites in action this afternoon in Byrd Park at 5 o'clock, when Dr. Price's Grays clash with the Ashland aggregation. The Grays lost their first game Saturday to the lowly Collegians, and are anxious to avenge this defeat by an overwhelming victory over the suburbanites. The Ashland management has secured one of the strongest line-ups in amateur ranks, and is hot on the trail of the "champs." Sanderson and Fignor will work for the Grays, while "Shirt" Blanton and Stout will be Ashland's battery.

To-morrow afternoon at 5 o'clock Byrd Park will again be the seene of carange, when the Battle Axe team hooks up with Dr. Bagby's rejuvennted Collegians. French and Burgia will work for the "Shoemmakers," while Dr. Bagby will send "Pat" Lohman after the bacon.

DONNELLY IS CERTAIN HE WILL TRIM ROLLER

Irishman Can See Nothing But Victory as Outcome of Thursday's Bout.

BATTLE ROYAL BIG FEATURE

Nine of Richmond's Battling Duskies Will Step Into Arena to Earn Applause From Assembled Multitude. Plenty of Laughs for Everybody.

BY "REFERENCE."

An interesting sidelight on the Roller-Donelly match, which is to take place at the ball park Thursday night for the heavyweight wrestling championship of America, is the seriousness with which Donnelly is taking the engagement. The Irishman spends half of his time training and the other half writing his friends how badly he is going to beat the doctor.

Italier will unquestionably go on the mat a favorite. His championship title will make him a favorite, but Donnelly, through his sincerity and his earnestness, has wen hundreds of friends. It is indeed surprising to note the number of inquiries concerning the match received from out of town, and almost every one is from an admirer of Donnelly, Donnelly believes he is going to win received from out of town, and almost every one is from an admirer of Donnelly.

Donnelly believes he is going to win. Some of us may hold a different opinion, but if we do it would be best not to mention it in the presence of the flery Irishman. He never says "if I beat Roller," but "after I beat Roller," He's mad, mad all over every inch of his big frame. He has never believed other than that Roller threw him off the mat intentionally when he suffered the mat intentionally when he suffered the injury that he claims cost him the match when he first met the champion publicly. He is willing to give Roller the benefit of the doubt, but he does it grudgingly, and one can easily see that deep down in his heart he is like the woman—of the same opinion still.

Causing almost if not quite as much excitement as the big mill is the battle royal that will open the big show. Nine duskies of various weights, shades and ability have agreed to go into the ring and battle until all save one have been put outside the ropes. Those of von who have witnessed a battle royal need no explanation of what it is, but for the henefit of those who have never had the opportunity, it is one of the biggest laugh-producers in the world of sport. There is no cud to the fun. It begins without latermission until time has been called.

Harry Mathews stole second says Ray Ryan, and not only a couple of letters, and is preparing to go on a ten-day furlough. The question thus resolves itself into did he done it or did he didn't.

Barring a too great inclination to appear frothy, we would be serious. Stealing second base is part of a ball game, but stealing it and placing it nearer to the home plate than the rule Stealing second base is part of a ball game, but stealing it and placing it nearer to the home plate than the rule book allows, is quite another matter, especially when it is done, as Ryan alleges, in order to take advantage of opposing teams. If guilty, Harry Mathews should be fired, placed on the blacklist of baseball and made an example for other managers who may succeed him. It is not the question of three or four or a hundred ball games that's at issue. It's the integrity of the game.

Mathews, if guilty—and vie would have it distinctly understood that we are not finding him guilty, yet—has delivered a vital blow at the foundation upon which baseball has been built into the public-holding sport it is. Time was when anything that one could get away with in baseball was fair; happily that time has past, and we cannot helieve that the good people we know and highly esteem in Newport News, will condene Mathews' offense if he be proved guilty. It is silly to assert that under the conditions as charged by Ryan, it was as fair for one club as another, nor can Mathews he excused, again, if proved guilty, because he failed to gain an advantage through the ruse. The intent to win through upfair methods was there.

It is up to President Botwright to disprove the charges if baseless and start an immediate investigation; to disprove the charges if baseless and to punish Mathews if guilty.

Why?-Because the Studebaker SIX is light in weight, and essentially economical.

The most careful analyses of steels, two to four scien-tifically exact heat treatments — thus Studebaker insures economy and increases strength while reducing weight.

These are preliminary processes — necessarily ig-nored by the assembler or semi-manufacturer — yet held by Studebaker to be fundamental and vital to manufactured value.
